1. [REDACTED] LIAISON Met with Spencer Davis, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence staff, and told him the Agency had no objection if he released a statement he had provided us to the press on the [REDACTED] security incident.
2. [REDACTED] LIAISON Met with Abram Shulsky, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence staff, who indicated Senator Daniel Moynihan (D., N.Y.) wants to press ahead with hearings on [REDACTED]. The hearings would be under the auspices of the Select Committee and feature Commerce, State and perhaps White House witnesses. Shulsky indicated he did not believe Senator Moynihan would reintroduce his bill on this subject in the next Congress. Shulsky said his inclination was to back off the issue now as there appeared there had been a real change in the Administration's approach to this problem and Shulsky thought that was all that could be hoped for.
3. [REDACTED] LIAISON Met with Ed Levine, Senate Select Committee on Intelligence staff, who gave me three more requests regarding the [REDACTED] case.
